

court room, to which she paid no heed.

The indictment was not read. Mr. Levy entered a plea of not guilty, with leave to withdraw in two weeks. "About bail, Mr. District-Attorney?" queried the Court.

"I ask that bail be fixed at $20,000," said Mr. Smith.

"That will be satisfactory if given by a surety company or two property owners," said Justice Van Sicken.

Mr. Levy announced that the bonds had been signed by Smith Cox and Ernest Randall, residents of Freeport and neighbors of Mrs. Carman. The court approved the bond and Mrs. Carman swore to the truth of her statement that she would surrender herself into custody at the command of the court.

Mrs. Carman, accompanied by the side door and descended to an underground passage between the courtroom and the jail. There, out of sight of the curious crowd, Mrs. Carman almost collapsed. Mr. Levy assisted her across to the jail where they met Dr. Carman who supported her to the room she had occupied as a prisoner. Her suitcase was packed and all was in readiness for her departure. CANT UNDERSTAND WHY SHE WAS INDICTED.

Before her arraignment Mrs. Carman promised she would make a statement to the reporters. But her nervous breakdown precluded that formality. In a broken voice she said:

"All I can say is that I don't understand yet why the Grand Jury refused to hear me. Here is the second plea I made to them yesterday."

The statement was written on a double sheet of note paper in Mrs. Carman's smooth, diminutive hand. It reads as follows:

July 15th.
To the Grand Jury—My lawyer tells me you have refused my petition to tell my story before you. I cannot understand this. It seems that you cannot be so cruel as to refuse me permission to go before you and tell all that I know.

I don't want sympathy, but merely justice, and I cannot believe you can be so unjust as to hear only one side and refuse me permission to truthfully tell you all that I know. Won't you please be fair and let me make my statement?

FLORENCE A. CARMAN.
The plea was returned to her, she said. She expressed the belief that if she had been allowed to talk to the Grand Jury no indictment would be found.

GOES IN A MOTOR CAR TO HER OLD HOME.

Mrs. Carman left the jail at 3 o'clock. In the motor car with her were her husband, Mr. Randall and Mr. Cox, her bondsmen, and Mrs. Cox. Mr. Levy said that the party would not go direct to Freeport, but would take a long ride through the country. His statement was designed to throw the reporters off the track, as it is known Mrs. Carman desires to return to her home to see her daughter and her mother, who is sick in bed, and her aged father.

Mr. Randall is a wealthy resident of Freeport and a close friend of Dr. Carman. Mr. Cox lives across the street from the Carmans. He is the Republican leader of Nassau County, former President of Freeport Village and former Chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

CALL ON TO GIVE UP MAID'S EFFECTS.

As Dr. Carman and his wife were leaving the jail they were handed a letter from the District-Attorney commanding them to turn over to Phineas Seaman, county detective and a private detective, all the personal effects of Celia Coleman, the colored servant. This indicates that Mr. Smith will keep the Coleman girl under surveillance until the trial.

Dr. Carman boasted before his wife was arraigned this afternoon that he could have furnished $100,000 bail. Offers of help, he said, poured in on him from all over Long Island.

District-Attorney Smith, tired out from day and night work on the case, said he would leave as soon as possible for a rest in the Pennsylvania mountains with Sheriff Pettit. In his absence private detectives and his assistant, Mr. Weeks, will look after the developments of the case.

"How is your wife?" Dr. Carman was asked as he was leaving the jail at noon after notifying Mrs. Carman of the arrangements that had been perfected for bail.

"She's fine," replied the doctor, with his infectious laugh. "We just danced a two-step."

GOING FIRST TO WATER GAP, THEN TO FARM.

"I have two very sick patients," continued the doctor, "and I can't leave them just now. As soon as I can get away, my wife and I and our daughter are going to Delaware Water Gap for a rest of a couple of weeks or more. From there we may go to our farm in New Jersey."

"Take it from me," Dr. Carman went on, "this man Smith, the District-Attorney, couldn't be elected dog-father in this community after the showing he made in this case."

District-Attorney Smith thinks his case against Mrs. Carman was weakened by his inability to get hold of Mrs. Variance, the middle-aged trained nurse who was slapped in the face by Mrs. Carman in the doctor's office shortly before the photograph was installed. Mrs. Variance dodged the Grand Jury subpoena servers, but it is said she was seen at her home in Bedford last night.

It was reported today, but not verified, that Mrs. Benjamin Duryea of Henry street, Hempstead, who is no kin of the family of Mrs. Bailey, was a witness before the Grand Jury yesterday. She is said to have testified that she and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, and Dr. and Mrs. Carman were on a yachting trip on Hempstead Bay two years ago.

SAYS THERE IS NO USE IN DENYING THE STORY.

"What's the use in denying such stories," asked Dr. Carman, when this matter was called to his attention. "Neither my wife nor I knew Mrs. Bailey. We were never on the yachting trip alleged to have been described by Mrs. Duryea. But my wife and I know Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Duryea. About a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Duryea and their daughter Florence planned to pay a visit to my farm in New Jersey but the project fell through."

Another report current in Mineola is that the latest statement of Celia Coleman, the colored maid, alleges that when Mrs. Carman entered the kitchen of her home right after the shooting she had an object in her right hand concealed under her left elbow. The girl did not see the object and could not say that it was a revolver.

MRS. BAILEY'S FAMILY HOLD NO RESENTMENT.

The family of the slain woman feel no resentment toward Mrs. Carman. They take the ground that she was insane when she fired the shot that ended the life of an innocent and unsuspecting woman. But they feel that in justice to the good name of Mrs. Bailey, which has been dragged through the mire of scandal and gossip, Mrs. Carman should tell the true story of the shooting.

"We ask only for justice," said William D. Bailey, the husband of the slain woman, to-day—"justice to Mrs. Carman and justice to the memory of my little wife."

"I have nothing to say about the indictment and have no criticism of the authorities to offer. The District-Attorney had to contend against great obstacles. It is creditable to him that in the face of pressure and influence he stuck to his duty and proved to the Grand Jury that Mrs. Carman killed my wife."

"But until this tragedy occurred I had supposed that murder is murder. I had believed, up to this time, that if a person, hearing something over a telephone, hearing something over a dictograph that aroused his or her jealous rage should pick up a revolver, walk with it a distance of thirty or forty yards, break a window in order to get better aim and fire the weapon at another person with fatal results, a murderer might reasonably be suspected. But it appears to be manslaughter."

There are rumors in Nassau County that between now and the Supreme Court term next October the District-Attorney will continue to obtain evidence and that he will submit the case to another Grand Jury in the hope of getting an indictment for murder in the first degree. But the friends of the Carman family maintain that the District-Attorney has gathered all the witnesses he can get and that it will be impossible for him to make out a stronger case than that which he presented to the Grand Jury yesterday.

It is generally believed in Nassau County that Mrs. Carman will be saved by the so-called unwritten law, and that at worst she will be convicted of second degree manslaughter and escape with a small fine.

The punishment for first degree manslaughter may be a term of twenty years' imprisonment; for second degree the minimum punishment is a fine of $1,000 and the maximum fifteen years in prison.

LIMIT FOR WHITE SLAVER.

Freda Carfaro Sent to Sing Sing for Five to Ten Years.

Freda Carfaro, the first of the gang of eleven men and a woman charged with being White Slavers, who pleaded guilty Wednesday to the charge of mistreating a seventeen-year-old Josephine Wahler of No. 1073 Washington avenue, the Bronx, received the limit sentence to-day from County Judge Gibbs, who sent him to Sing Sing for not less than five years nor more than ten.

William A. Kier, Carfaro's lawyer, made a plea for the young man, saying he wanted to marry the girl, but District-Attorney Martin urged the limit sentence.

$306,000,000 SUIT AGAINST DIRECTORS OF NEW HAVEN ROAD

Minority Stockholders Ask Court to Appoint Receiver To Prosecute Claims.

MELLEN IS ONE NAMED.

Others Are William Rockefeller, Robert Taft and the Estate of J. P. Morgan.

(Special to The Evening World.)
BOSTON, July 17.—The appointment of a receiver, special master or other official to prosecute claims aggregating $306,000,000 against defendant directors and directors' estates of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad is asked in a suit filed in the Supreme Court to-day. The action is brought by Whipple, Sears & Ogden, representing minority stockholders of the company.

The suit is entered for Ralph S. Bartlett and other trustees under the will of Ole Bull Vaughan, late of West Lebanon, Me., owner of fifty shares of the capital stock of the company. Mrs. Vaughan was a daughter of Ole Bull, the famous violinist. Judge Bailey issued a notice returnable next Friday for the defendant to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed.

The defendants, who include various directors since 1903 and estates of deceased directors, are William Rockefeller, Charles F. Brooks, William Skinner, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, Charles S. Mellen, James S. Elton, James S. Hemingway, A. Heaton Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster, Henry K. McHarg, John T. Pratt, the estate of J. P. Morgan, the estate of Edwin Milner, the estate of L. De Ver Warner, the estate of Amory A. Lawrence and directors Twombly, Miller and Brush.

In addition the plaintiffs name John L. Billard, George F. Baker, T. De Witt Cuyler, Edward Milligan, F. T. Maxwell, Theodore N. Vail, S. W. Winslow, Laurence Minot, Samuel Rea, Morton F. Plant, De Ver H. Warner, John T. Pratt, Howard Elliott, James L. Richards, W. M. Crane, A. T. Hadley and J. H. Huettis as having been directors since 1909, but, as to whether their failure to cause the road to institute a restitution suit has made them liable on account of negligence and violation of fiduciary duty, the plaintiffs state that they are not advised and make no specific averment.

The bill of complaint declares that the defendants on account of breach of fiduciary duty, chiefly through causing the New Haven to acquire illegally its Boston and Maine, trolley and steamship properties, are bound to pay to the plaintiffs $306,000,000, withdrawn therefrom wrongfully and for ultra vires and illegal purposes.

It is alleged that the losses resulting from these acquisitions approximate $102,000,000 and that under the Federal anti-trust act the New Haven is entitled to recover from the defendants three-fold that sum—or $306,000,000.

SIX DIE IN TRAIN CRASH; NINETEEN ARE INJURED

Excursionists Victims When Crowded Electric Cars Dash Into Freight at Crossing.

NORFOLK, Va., July 17.—Six were killed and nineteen were injured early to-day when an electric excursion train crashed into a Virginia Railway freight train at a grade crossing near this city. Four men and two women, all of Norfolk, were killed. Dennis P. Lyons of Baltimore, among the injured, is in a critical condition.

Men on the freight say the crossing gates were down. The dead are Joseph Cooper, Norfolk; J. D. Watson, Portsmouth; John Goodman, Norfolk; Annie Meehan, Norfolk; Mrs. Ernest Brown, Norfolk; one unidentified body, believed to be Prof. Leo Hecht, Norfolk, dancing teacher.

QUEENIE MERRALL'S DENIAL.

English Actress Testifies in J. M. Hisey's Suit for Divorce.

LONDON, July 17.—Mrs. Elsie Hisey, a young actress who appeared in New York last winter in Cyril Maude's Company at Wallack's Theatre under the name of Queenie Merrall, is being sued for divorce by John B. Hisey, a barrister.

She was in the witness box yesterday, and swore she was only an acquaintance of a man named Hisey, a member of the American bar, who was mentioned in the case. She admitted she had met Mr. Hisey at theatrical garden parties and at supper. She also denied misconduct with Albert Whelan, a widely known English vaudeville artist who is mentioned as co-respondent.

Better Facilities for Queensboro Span.

Bridges Commissioner F. J. H. Kracke wants the Board of Estimate to give him $2,500,000 to improve traffic facilities in the Queensboro Bridge. His plan is to have two tracks placed for an elevated line over the span and for subway trains to be operated in connection with the dual system. It would take two years to complete the improvements. The Board of Estimate will meet the 30th of this month and likely act on the request.

CARRANZA TO KILL MADERO'S MURDERERS; WILSON ASKS AMNESTY

and no interference will be tolerated from the outside."

The United States expects Gen. Carranza to take over the Mexican Government next week. Its information is that already Acting President Carranza has offered to make way for the Constitutionalists "First Chief." The only terms he asks is amnesty for political offenders and protection for the men who fought at Huerta's command. This will be granted if the United States influence can bring it about.

It is believed certain that Carranza has promised protection of all foreigners as soon as he enters the capital. If so it will enable the United States to act promptly in recognizing the new government. Carranza is expected to repudiate the debts Huerta incurred, but the national obligations authorized by Congress, previous to Madero's death, will all be paid.

Carranza's informal statement that he would retire in favor of Carranza, and Carranza's announcement that he will negotiate with the Federalists for peaceful transfer of power in Mexico City, is regarded as practical assurance of peace.

The crisis of the situation appeared to hang on the extent of the quarter Carranza might be willing to grant his fallen foe.

Fears expressed over the attitude of Villa partially were discounted by his statement that there was "no need for apprehension regarding my stay in the north." He said he expected to move his troops toward Mexico City shortly.

One plan for the occupation of Mexico City contemplated that 5,000 troops from each of the three divisions of the Constitutional army simultaneously would enter the capital. Jealousy would thus be obviated.

From Monterey, Carranza announced his plan of conducting negotiations for establishment of the Constitutional Government in Mexico City without further sacrifice of life. He declared, however, that unconditional surrender would be the only basis upon which the parleys could result successfully.

ARMY OF CARRANZA IS BEING RUSHED TO MEXICAN CAPITAL.

MEXICO CITY, July 17.—Two trains loaded with Constitutional troops from Celaya are expected to arrive here to-night.

Ricardo Gomez Robelo, Attorney-General of the Republic, has resigned, as has Gen. Hernandez, Governor of Puebla and father-in-law of Victor Huerta, son of the ex-President. The State Legislature appointed Francisco Canseco to succeed him.

The gambling houses in the capital were closed last night by order of President Carranza. It was announced that no more gambling will be allowed by the authorities. Gen. Carranza or other representatives of the Constitutionalists will arrive in Mexico City at an early date.

tatives of the Constitutionalists will arrive in Mexico City at an early date to attend a peace conference to be called by Provisional President Carranza, who announces to-day that all of his efforts would be turned toward bringing the warring factions of the republic together. Reports received to-day declared the Constitutionalists would accept his invitation for a conference.

Following his appointment as Minister of War Gen. Refugio Velasco freed all political prisoners. It is generally accepted that Carranza's plan for the establishment of peace provides for the installation of the Constitutionalists in power at an early date. He hopes the different factions will agree upon a man to head the government, pending a general election, and the scheme would then be to appoint this individual Minister of Foreign Relations in the Carranza Cabinet. Carranza would then resign and his Minister of Foreign Relations succeed him.

HUERTA, IN FLIGHT, TAKES NIGHT'S SLEEP IN REBEL PLOTTING.

PUERTO MEXICO, July 17.—Gen. Huerta stopped on his leisurely journey from Mexico City and passed the night at Tierra Blanca, in the State of Vera Cruz, the centre of a district overrun by small bands of revolutionists, who have boasted that they will never let the departing former Dictator reach the coast.

It was thought likely Huerta would be in Puerto Mexico late in the afternoon. His train is being preceded and followed by troop trains.

Gen. Huerta's failure to hurry worried his wife, while Benito Blauquet, whose husband, former Minister of War, is with his old chief, was hysterical.

SAN LUIS POTOSI IS SEIZED BY REBELS.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., July 17.—San Luis Potosi has been surrendered to the Constitutionalists, according to unofficial dispatches received in Matamoros, opposite Brownsville, to-day. The messages, which were sent from Monterey, gave no details.

ELOPING COUPLE HERE; WAIT TO TELL MOTHER AS SHE LEAVES LINER

Dorothy Humphrey Will Introduce Self to Parent as Mrs. Ireland.

When Mrs. Samuel Humphrey of Philadelphia lands in New York from Europe in a few days she will find a surprise awaiting her. She expects to be greeted by her daughter, Miss Dorothy, a Vassar graduate. The twenty-two-year-old girl will be on the pier all right, but not as Miss Dorothy Humphrey. It will be as Mrs. G. Sumner Ireland that she will greet her mother. And G. Sumner, aged twenty-nine, Vice-President of an advertising firm in the Quaker City, will also be at the pier.

Word reached this city last night from Philadelphia that the couple, who are at the Hotel Biltmore, had eloped, the bridegroom, telling his father he was coming to New York on business.

The girl's father was aware of his young daughter's matrimonial intentions but demurred at an immediate wedding on account of her youth. Miss Humphrey and Mr. Ireland, however, had known each other fifteen years and they thought that was waiting enough.

So they slipped to St. Stephen's Rectory in Philadelphia, where the Rev. Dr. Carl E. Gramann performed the ceremony. Then they came to New York to wait for Mrs. Humphrey and to tell her all about it.

HIGH BEEF PRICES TO STAY.

No Relief in Sight for Consumers, Says Government Expert.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—"I can see no relief as far as the high cost of beef is concerned," said Dr. A. D. Nelvin, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture, to-day. "The high prices are undoubtedly caused by the scarcity of beef cattle in the United States, and under conditions such as obtain at present there is little prospect of increasing our supply. A certain amount of beef comes in from the Argentine Republic; last month about 14,000,000 pounds. When you stop to consider that in addition to what the United States supplies or should supply, it is a large amount. And yet it has little effect upon the high prices."

BREAK IN ERIE CANAL.

Part of Aqueduct Washed Away by Flood and Traffic Closed.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., July 17.—Twenty-five feet of the southern section of the aqueduct carrying the Erie Canal over a creek at Canajoharie was washed out to-day, releasing the water of a six-mile level. The eastern section of the State waterway will be closed to traffic for several days.

Barry M. Schuyler To-Morrow.

The funeral of Montgomery Schuyler, author and journalist, who died of pneumonia yesterday at his home in New Rochelle, will be at Trinity Church, New Rochelle, at 11 o'clock to-morrow. Mr. Schuyler, who was seventy-one years old, began his newspaper work on the World in 1885, going later to the Sun, the Times and to Harper's Weekly. Two sons survive him.

Bill to Abolish "Fleeting Board."

WASHINGTON, July 17.—To abolish the "plucking board" of the navy, Representative Britten of Illinois introduced a bill to-day proposing retirement by a system of mental and physical examinations for promotion to each grade. Officers failing to pass examinations would fall of promotion, and a second failure would automatically retire them.

SAYS JILTED SUITOR THREATENED TO KILL

He Denies It, But Must Give Bond to Keep the Peace.

Eighteen-year-old Hazel Hoadley, a pretty stenographer of No. 199 Himrod street, Brooklyn, jilted Edward Haggerty, thirty-seven, of New Rochelle, last March. She told Magistrate Herbert in Centre Street Police Court to-day that she threw him over because he was too jealous, but he has been annoying her.

Haggerty wrote her a letter, she said, asking her to meet him July 4. She didn't show up and he went to her home, she said, and waited until she came out with another man. The jilted suitor upbraided the latter, she testified.

"What's the use of you going with her," she says he said, "she's my girl, and God intended us to be married."

On July 8 Haggerty accosted her, Miss Hoadley said, telling her if she refused to marry him he would kill her. Haggerty denied this, saying he loved Hazel better than he did his own sister.

The Magistrate paroled him until to-morrow when he must furnish a bond of $100 to keep the peace for three months.

BEWITCHED, SAYS WOMAN WHO SHOT HER FRIEND

After Shooting, Her Children Aid Her in Barricading Herself in Her Home.

Without warning Mrs. Mary Christian of No. 236 East One Hundred and Fifth street walked into the adjoining apartment of her friend, Mrs. Angelina Most, this morning, pulled a pistol from her dress and shot Mrs. Most in the jaw. The victim swooned into the arms of her three grown children.

Mrs. Christian retreated to her own apartment, where she barricaded herself with the help of her six children. Patrolman Kilgannon of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station after turning in a hurry call to the Reception Hospital, rushed to the Christian apartment. He tried to break down the door, but the children finally opened it. The mother lay huddled in a corner badly frightened.

Dr. Haer found Mrs. Most suffering from a broken jaw.

Mrs. Christian talked so irrationally she was sent to the observation ward at Bellevue. She insisted her victim had bewitched her six children.

REBELS DEFEATED IN HAYTI.

Routed in the Capital and Elsewhere.

Three Other Fights.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Hayti, July 17.—A panic was caused by a revolutionary outbreak, accompanied by a considerable amount of shooting, in the streets of the capital to-day. The rising was quickly suppressed by the Government forces and order restored.

Gen. Leon Duque with a Government force to-day recaptured from the rebels the towns of Pere du Mid and Milot and established communications with the column commanded by the President, which had engaged another rebel band on the plains of Limonade.

Another force of Government troops took Fort Deronville and then began its march on Ouanaminthe, the principal stronghold of the rebels.
